Milroy and Moscow Report High Water Resembling The Flood of 1913—Washouts Reported

Sexton and Arthur streets, north of Fifth and Sixth streets, and almost the entire northwestern part of Rushville was partly under water today, as the result of the heavy rains of last night and early today. Hodge's branch which comes into the city through the city park, was unable to carry away the water, and the overflow went over the streets.

Many places the water reached within an inch or two of entering homes, and people were preparing to move. The water in the streets was at its highest point, early this morning, between four and six o'clock. People living in South Pearl street were becoming alarmed about noon today, when the river was rising rapidly, and many in this neighborhood were preparing to move.

Rushville was practically surrounded by water as all of the river lands east of the city were covered with water, and the race and river had flowed together on the old ball park, and was rising rapidly this morning.

All of the low lands along the river, northeast of Rushville, near the Pennsylvania railroad bridge were covered over with water and the road near the white bridge was made impassible by several feet of water washing over it.

People living in the vicinity of the race in East Third and Julian streets were alarmed, as the water was within a few inches of its bank in many places.

Water flowed in Sexton street from the north end down almost to Sixth street and in several places was clear across the street from the front steps of the houses of one side to the steps of the houses across the street.

After Sexton street was under water, it quickly spread down the side streets, and over into Arthur street.

The I. & C. traction line along Seventh street from Sexton to the Big Four railroad was under water several feet, and no car left here today for Indianapolis. The first car from Indianapolis arrived here, but did not get any further than the Big Four tracks, and remained there throughout the day.

The Seventh street bridge over Hodge's branch was washed loose, but the part on which the tracks were, was said to be holding. The Ninth street bridge for pedestrians was also reported as being loose and not safe for anyone to walk over.

The water in Arthur street was considerably deeper than it was in Sexton street, and this morning in several places it was three feet deep and for a time threatened to enter homes between Sixth and Ninth streets.

This part of Rushville has often been under water, but people living in that part of the city, stated today that it was almost as bad now as it was in March, 1913 when this section of the country was flooded.

The city park was completely flooded and the water was three feet deep in many places. The branch which in normal times is almost dry, is not very wide nor deep, and its course is so crooked that in times of an overflow, the water does not follow the regular course.

This branch goes diagonally through Rushville from the city park to the Big Four railroad, just below Seventh street, then it turns almost directly west, along the C. I. & W. railroad for about a quarter of a mile. Then it turns abruptly back to the east again and southwest

RISKS LIFE TO SAVE DOG FROM DROWNING

Dr. D. D. Drago, local veterinarian, risked his life to save his dog from drowning in the high water this afternoon. The dog, an Airedale, which is a great favorite around Oneal Brothers place of business, dived into the water near the bayou bridge in South Main street when someone tossed a stone into the water. The dog was caught in the current and was about to sink. Dr. Drago plunged into the water, swam to the struggling pet and pulled him safely to shore.

along the west side of Rushville, until it reaches the river.

In making so many turns the branch is unable to carry away the water, and several of the railroad and street bridges are not large enough to permit the water to go through as it should and the water backs up on the streets in the northwestern part of the city.

The steady rains of the last few days brought the water up in the branch, and at four o'clock this morning a downpour started which resembled a cloudburst, and this only added to the high waters.

At Milroy Little Flat Rock river that runs along the west side of the town was out of its bank and completely covered the lowlands in that vicinity. Many people said that it resembled the 1913 flood very much. The river road between Milroy and Williamstown was impassable, being covered by several feet of water.

People living in the vicinity of Moscow, which is on the banks of Big Flat Rock, stated this morning that there seemed to be no cause for alarm, but the river was gradually rising, and might before night be out of its bounds.

High waters on the country roads and the basement filling with water at the Glenwood school, caused the school to be closed today at that place.

The attendance at most of the country schools and smaller town schools was small today, and in Rushville the Jackson school was closed at noon because of the small attendance.

At this school, which includes the children that were isolated by the waters, only five or six reported at each room, the highest attendance.

SENATOR WATSON NOT TO PRESIDE TONIGHT

Word Received That He Can Not Attend Sixth District Love Feast at Richmond

RAIN WILL CUT ATTENDANCE

Senator James E. Watson, who was selected to preside at the sixth district republican love feast at Richmond tonight, will not be able to attend, according to word received today. Representative Richard N. Elliott of this district also will not be present it is stated.

It is doubtful if the attendance from this county will be as large as anticipated because of the heavy rains. The majority of the Rush county republicans who planned to attend, were going in automobiles.

Dispatches today said there was a possibility of Major General Leonard Wood being the third candidate for the presidential nomination to speak in the Coliseum tonight. Gen. Wood will speak at Piqua, O., late Tuesday afternoon, and the committee hopes to bring him to Richmond in an automobile for a short address. His address at Dayton, Ohio, would be postponed until 9 o'clock. Senator Johnson of California, and Senator Harding of Ohio, the other candidates, will be present. State Chairman Wasmuth will take Senator Watson's place as chairman.

After this was disposed of the conference took up the territory problem confronting Armenia and the question of mandatory under the league of nations. The Turkish treaty probably will be given to the delegates in Paris, May 10, it was announced officially.

SHOWS EFFECT OF THE STRIKE

Statistics on Count of Parcel Post at Local Postoffice Reveal Immense Gains

COVER FIRST HALF OF APRIL

Increase of Almost 150 Percent in Number of Parcels Handled, Compared With Last October

Statistics on the parcel post business at the Rushville postoffice the first fifteen days of April, which were announced today by Deputy Postmaster Brown, disclose the effect of the tie-up on the railroads, which caused much regular express business to be deflected to the mails. More parcels were received for delivery and dispatched than during any other fifteen-day period in the history of the Rushville office.

For the purpose of showing the vast amount of parcel post business transacted, the statistics are compared with a count made between October 1 and 15, 1919, when the volume of parcel post handled reached the peak.

In October 1065 parcels weighing 3738 pounds were received at the local office for dispatch and the first fifteen days of this month 1522 pieces weighing 4625 pounds were received.

During the former period 2375 pieces were received for delivery, making a total of 3380 pieces handled during the first fifteen days of last October. The first fifteen days of this month 4100 pieces were received for delivery, bringing the total number of pieces handled up to 5725, an increase of almost 150 percent in the actual amount of business done.

A large number of the parcels received were out of Chicago, where the congestion was greatest due to the strike. Previous to the switchmen's strike there was a strike of expressmen which materially increased the parcel post business.

The parcels delivered from the Rushville office showed the greatest increase on the rural routes, as compared with the fifteen-day period last October. There were 495 parcels delivered by the rural carriers then as compared with 1339 this month.

During the last count 184 pieces were delivered in boxes and through the general delivery and this time 398 parcels. The city carriers on regular trips delivered 258 parcels the first fifteen days of last October and 532 the first fifteen days of this month. By special delivery only 48 parcels were delivered last October while the count was on and 135 this time.

The parcels received for mailing during the count just closed were divided as follows with respect to zone destination:

Local delivery, 67 pieces; second zone, 887 parcels; third zone, 284 pieces; fourth zone, 194 pieces; fifth zone, 68 pieces; sixth zone, 6 pieces; seventh zone, 4 pieces; eighth zone, 12 pieces.

GARY UP; GREENCASTLE DOWN

Washington, April 20.—The census bureau announced today the 1920 population of Gary, Ind., as 55,344, an increase since 1910 of 38,542 or 29.4 percent. The figures of Greencastle are 3,780, a decrease of 10.

PRIMARY ONLY TWO WEEKS FROM TODAY

Candidates Enter Final Stretch For Nominations on County and State Tickets

CONTESTS ENLIVEN RACE.

Interest in County Changes From Contest for Governor to Presidential Campaign

With the primary election to be held two weeks from today, the candidates are entering the final stretch in the race for nominations on county and state tickets and for state delegates. From this time on the campaign will likely be more intensive as the candidates are beginning to show increased vigor.

Interest here has changed from the race for the republican nomination for governor to the republican nomination for president, especially since Indiana will be the battleground the next two weeks of four candidates, Senators Harding and Johnson, Major General Wood and Governor Lowden. All these names will be on the Indiana primary ballot. This is the first instance where these four aspirants for the honor have all made a campaign in the same state for the delegation.

Although more interest seems to be centered on the presidential race, the gubernatorial race has not been lost sight of because both Edward C. Toner of Anderson and Warren T. McCray of Kentland have been in Rush county and made their formal bid for support. Whether J. Fessler of Indianapolis, the third candidate, will come to Rush county in person to seek votes in the primary, is not definitely known.

Thus far not much attention has been attracted to the county race. The republican candidates for office where there are contests, have been active, but they have not yet been able to stir up an appreciable amount of enthusiasm.

As the primary nears, however interest will rapidly increase. There are no races on the democratic ticket with one exception, Frank Megee of this city and John A. D. Wagoner of Orange township are candidates for representative in the state legislature, and their names will be the only ones on the democratic primary ballot since the other nominations are not contested.

On the republican ticket there are several contests. For example, Phil Wilk of this city and John F. Mays and William R. Martin, both of Union township, seek the nomination for auditor, and there are three candidates for the nomination for sheriff—John W. Kennedy and Sidney L. Hunt of this city, and William C. Morgan of Rushville township.

The nominations for two seats on the county board of commissioners also present an interesting fight. For the middle district, Samuel H. Young R. S. Davis and Jesse Winkler, all of this city, and Oscar J. Miller, seek the nomination. George H. Sweet of Raleigh, Earl Sears of Carthage and George H. Bell and L. N. Stevens, both of Mays, are all after the nomination to represent the northern district on the board.

The county election commissioners have prepared the copy for the ballots and they will be printed the latter part of this week or the first of next week.

The race for delegates to the republican state convention does not lack interest because in Rushville township there are six candidates and only three to be elected. Elmer Humes, Guy L. Gordon, Glen Miller and Alonzo L. Stewart all want to represent Rushville city in the convention, but only two of them can be elected. Albert Denning and Walter H. Capp are candidates to be elected the delegate representing that part of Rushville township outside the city.

There are likewise contests in Union and Ripley townships. One delegate is to be elected from each township, but there are two candidates in each—Thomas S. Bishop and Alva O. Bitner in Union and J. A. Sipe and Fred Brooks in Ripley. The visit of two presidential candidates to this district this week is

"OUTLAW" STRIKE TO END TOMORROW

Officials of Chicago Yardmen's Association Say Effort Will Be Made to Get Men Back.

SUPPORT THEIR DEMANDS

Chiefs of Established Rail Unions Appear Before the Railroad Labor Board Today.

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Ill., April 20.—The "outlaw" railroad strike will end tomorrow, officials of the Chicago Yardmen's association announced today. An effort will be made, they said, to persuade all striking men affiliated with the Chicago organization to report for work.

Many public officials will address a mass meeting here tomorrow to tell the strikers they are not fighting the individual roads but the government. Federal Judge Landis and Police Chief Garrity were among the speakers chosen.

Twenty-five additional warrants charging violation of the Lever act were sworn out against the leaders.

Washington, April 20.—Chiefs of the established rail unions appeared before the railroad labor board today to present their arguments supporting the demands for a wage increase totalling $1,100,000,000 annually for two million workers, mostly the "outlaw" strikers.

Meanwhile chiefs of newly organized unions prepared a written statement of their demands to file with the board.

Ed McHugh, representing the Jersey City "outlaw" strikers, declared they would not return to work unless the labor board gives immediate attention to their case.

Washington, April 20.—President Wilson and his cabinet today discussed the railroad situation and the government's action.

Following the meeting cabinet members said they were satisfied with the government's course and believed that all the danger is over.

RIVERS AND STREAMS OF STATE ON RAMPAGE

Wabash Out of Its Banks at Bluffton—Madison Boy Drowns While Trying to Ford Creek

PREPARING TO LEAVE HOMES

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., April 20.—Rivers and streams throughout Indiana were reported today to have overflowed the bottom lands in their valleys.

In some sections of the state highways were under water and transportation was blocked. Waters continued to rise today due to the heavy rain last night.

At Bluffton the Wabash river was out of its banks and some residents were preparing to leave their homes until the water receded.

Streams in rural communities carried chickens and small live stock away when the waters left the banks.

At Madison a boy was drowned while attempting to ford Harbert Creek. His body was found two hours later in a brush pile. Much damage was done to property in the vicinity due to the overflowing of the streams.

JESSE WANTED TO IMPLICATE CAREY WAYNER

Mose Lowe Testifies Demaree Asked Him to Help Lay Blame on Man Who Helped State

DEMAREE CASE IS RESUMED

First Defense Witnesses Admit on Cross Examination Boaz Was Often in Trouble

STATE HAS ONE WITNESS

Rests Case Shortly After Noon When Trial Begins After Being in Adjournment Since Friday

Circuit court resumed hearing the Demaree conspiracy case at one o'clock today after an adjournment since Friday night, during which time Judge Miller's mother expired at her home in Franklin, and promptly at one this afternoon Mose Lowe took the witness stand for the state as their last witness.

The jury was present at nine this morning, but because of the high waters, Judge Miller was not able to reach here until noon.

Mose Lowe who is now in jail here, awaiting his trial or conspiracy, testified to hearing several conversations in jail here between Boaz and Jesse Demaree.

Lowe said that when Jesse Demaree was brought here from the penal farm, he wanted to implicate Carey Wayner as the man who sold articles that were stolen. Lowe said that he told Demaree that he would not implicate anyone, but would tell the truth.

When asked about further conversation he overheard in the jail, Lowe told about the two Demarees' talking several times, and when discussing the Carthage robbery Lowe said that the name of Gregg Alyea was mentioned frequently.

After Lowe had finished testifying he was taken back to jail and the state was at rest.

The first witness summoned by the defense was William G. Rucker of Greensburg. He said that he formerly lived in the house now occupied by Boaz Demaree and identified several boards that were taken from a trap door in the house, stating that they were there when he lived in the house.

He said the trap door was for the purpose of getting down to thaw out pipes. On cross-examination he said that there was a space of eight inches under the floor.

A burglar's "jimmie" was also brought into court a few days ago by the state and the defense asked Rucker if he ever saw it before. He said that he made it when he lived at the house so that he could pry up some windows in the coal shed. On cross examination he said that he was not a blacksmith, and acknowledged that he couldn't swear that it was the same one that he had made.

Walter W. Chrisler, a cigar dealer; Louis Bobrink, a meat dealer; W. W. Woodfill and Harry Woodfill, all Greensburg business men, next testified.

The defense asked each of these men if they were acquainted with Boaz Demaree and his general character for truth and integrity. Each said that they knew him and said that he was alright.

On cross examination each also acknowledged that they had heard about him being implicated in court in Greensburg for bootlegging, that he was known to have operated a gambling game in the basement of the DeArmond hotel, and that he had been arrested for stealing. The state then asked the witness if, an honest man would do such things, and the state attempted to show that each man was testifying about his personal dealing with Demaree, and not about his general character for honesty and integrity.

expected to stimulate the presidential nomination campaign and result in greater interest being displayed in the primary campaign.

Very few persons believe any candidate for the presidency will receive a majority of the votes cast in Indiana and there is a growing belief that the Indiana delegation to the Chicago convention will go unstructured. The managers of the various candidates, heeding this view, have therefore sought to obtain delegates to the state convention.

This move, which was started early by the Wood forces, resulted in "states" being offered in many counties by each of the managers. There is said to be scarcely a candidate for state delegate who has not made his presidential preference known and if he has not his inclination both as to White House and gu-beratorial contenders have been carefully investigated and the voters acquainted with the facts.

The Wood forces, confident of a big vote for the general in many of the counties which they have thoroughly organized, are taking no chances on the individual inclinations of delegates, however, and have apparently stolen another march on their opponents. They have obtained an agreement in several counties, it is said, whereby the delegates to the state convention will abide by the plurality vote cast in the county. In other places the district vote will

CAN CATARRH BE CURED

Does it Cause Tuberculosis, Pneumonia, Influenza to be Contracted.
—Free Examination and Lecture by Catarrh Specialists.

The medical director of the Indiana Catarrh Institute, 1436 North Illinois street, Indianapolis, Ind., is going to be in this city for one day. He will give privately, a free examination and consultation to everybody that goes to see him, as well as a very interesting and instructive lecture on just what catarrh is; what it will do to a person afflicted with it and give proof that catarrh has been cured and is now being cured every day right in this city.

This expert specialist has spent 17 years in the special study and treatment of chronic catarrh; has seen thousands of cases and positively pays no attention to any other diseases than catarrh. He is at the head of a large institution in Indianapolis, which is devoted exclusively to the treatment of this one disease. He has an entirely new and different system of successfully treating this disease, which he will be glad to demonstrate to all who call on him.

This pleasant and successful system can be used at home at very small expense, without any loss of time or inconvenience. It works successfully on the worst old cases of catarrh of the nose, throat and bronchial tubes. Chronic coughs and bronchitis, dropping mucus in the throat, pain in the chest, shortness of breath, clogged up head and nostrils, head noises and catarrhal deafness, hawking and spitting, frequent severe colds, asthma, hay fever, chronic catarrh of the stomach and bowels and all old "run down" conditions due to catarrh.

Chronic catarrh is often the forerunner of tuberculosis, influenza, pneumonia and other fatal diseases. Stop wasting time and money on sprays, douches, salves, appliances and the methods of ordinary doctors. Go and consult real specialists on the disease. It does not put you under obligation in any way. He is glad to advise you freely.

He will be at the Hotel Scanlan on Wednesday, April 28th, from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m., and every twenty-eight days thereafter.

If it is impossible for you to call on him in person, you should write to find out all about this new system that is curing people. Just address a card or letter to the Indiana Catarrh Institute, 1436 North Illinois street, Indianapolis, Ind.—(Adv.)

serve as a guide, and where neither the district nor the county units would consent to such an agreement it is said the general's lieutenants have obtained such an understanding within townships.

By such arrangement therefore, General Wood would be assured of the united support of the delegates from any district in which he obtained either a majority or plurality, even if some of them personally favored another candidate. This agreement is understood to have been practically striven for in the districts, for it is the state delegates from these units that select representatives to the national convention.

Even though the Wood forces have taken double precautions to insure their candidate the support of Indiana, the other managers have been pursuing what they term to be effective tactics. Big organizations have been built up for Governor Frank O. Lowden and Senator Warren G. Harding. The Lowden force is said to rival that backing General Wood, although but few details of this construction and maneuvers have been disclosed. The Wood people, on the other hand, have startled many of the political wisemen by the freedom with which they have made known the details of their organization and the announcement of their many moves.

The Harding forces are also said to be in effective working order, although its detail like that of the Lowden camp, has been kept from the public gaze. Senator Hiram W. Johnson is not without organized support, although his "machine" can in no way compare to that enlisted by the other three candidates. The Johnson boom in Indiana was slow in getting under way and it was not until after the senator swept the Michigan primary that a real organization sprang into existence.

Whatever their methods, however, each of the four managers is leaving no stone unturned in his endeavors to get his candidate's qualifications before the public. They are a unit, however, in their belief the candidate who receives the majority or plurality will have the greatest claim on the Hoosier national delegation of thirty votes.

WILL FACE WRATH AMERICAN PEOPLE

Congressmen Who Favor Soldiers' Bonus Are Warned by Rep. Goode in Speech Today.

FIRST ATTACK ON THE PLAN

Says He Does Not Know Where Money is Coming From With Treasury Empty.

Washington, April 20.—Members of congress who are advocating a soldier's bonus to "obtain favor with the service men" will find in a short time they will be facing the wrath of the American people, Representative Goode of Iowa, chairman of the appropriation committee, declared in a speech today.

Goode's was the first direct attack against the bonus legislation on the floor of the house.

A bonus to soldiers means increased prices, higher taxes, less work, less production and more discontent among the 106,000,000 people who did not serve in the armed forces during the war, said Goode.

"American people will not stand for congress distributing from one billion to two billion dollars among the service men," he said.

"Where the money is coming from I don't know, other than from an empty treasury. There is a deficit of three billion dollars now which before the year is up will be increased to four billion. Unanimous opposition of all men before the committee is that the war taxes are mainly responsible for the increased cost of living.

"Giving the soldier a bonus places them in the same class as the men who profited during the war," said Goode.

CARRANZA SUFFERS HEAVY CASUALTIES

Troops Walk Into Death Trap in Effort to Force Pass Leading Into Sonora.

FIFTY MEN CAN HOLD ARMY

Agua Prieta, Mexico, April 20.—Carranza troops failed in their first efforts to penetrate Sonora through a pass on the Chihuahua border, according to messengers arriving here today.

With concrete breastworks and machine guns planted to the side of the pass, it proved a death trap to the federal troops, according to the report. No casualties were reported against the Sonora defenders and it was impossible to learn the death list of the Carranza troops.

The Carranza forces felt the strength of the defense last night. It is believed they will make a strong effort to force through the pass shortly.

The narrow pass and the new defense made it possible for fifty men to hold the pass against an army, it was said.

"OUTLAW" STRIKE TO END TOMORROW

All further action probably will be left in the hands of the railroad labor board, it was said.
The president presided at the meeting, which was held in his study and lasted one and a quarter hours.

Today's Good Thought.
Though all the winds of doctrine were let loose to play upon the earth, so Truth be in the field, we do in gloriously, by licensing and prohibiting, to mislead her strength. Let her and falsehood grapple; who ever knew Truth put to the worse in a free and open encounter.—Milton.

Astonishing Economy and Efficiency In All Kinds of Cooking!

The performance of the "Red Star" will astonish you. You will be surprised at the intense heat generated and the low fuel consumption of the "Red Star."

RED STAR
Detroit Vapor Oil Stove

The "Red Star" is different from ordinary oil stoves. It is really a gas stove because it produces its own gas from the cheapest grades of kerosene, gaso line or distillate. This is possible because the vaporizes all of the heat units of the fuel and generates its own gas.

The "RedStar" is the first and only stove to use cheap oils without wicks or asbestos rings.

Ask for a demonstration. You will be quick to recognize its unusual qualities and why it is conceded to be the most efficient and economical oil range to be had. It costs you nothing to learn all about this wonderful stove.

The "Outlaw" Strike

The "outlaw" strike of railway switchmen, which has spread to other branches of the railroads, tying up transportation and causing losses running into the millions, makes more manifest the grave mistake which was made by congress in failing to include the anti-strike clause in the railroad bill. The clause was finally left out of the law because labor asserted that it was an attack on union labor.

But the present strike is not a labor union strike. It is a strike in defiance of labor unionism and the anti-strike clause would have dealt with a situation like this as well as with a strike of union workmen. The anti-strike provision, as a matter of fact, was not an attack on any particular class or interest but was an endeavor to protect the public welfare against any and all attempts to promote selfish interest at the sacrifice of the welfare of all.

There has never been a disposition on the part of anyone to forbid any employee, whether on a railroad or not, to quit his employment for any cause. The only purpose—and it was the clearly expressed purpose of the anti-strike clause of the railroad bill was to forbid a conspiracy on the part of either employers or employees—on the part of any two or more persons—to interfere with interstate commerce. If that clause had been left in the bill as it was passed by the senate, there would now be a very adequate means of punishing those who are jeopardizing the public peace, health and safety by conspiring to hold up traffic in food and other necessities of life.

The strike puts the question squarely up to the government—whether Uncle Sam is still capable of protecting its citizens in life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. If this strike is not entirely broken, then the government apparently fails in its chief mission. There are still continued as laws in name some of the war-time statutes under which the government was given extraordinary powers. But the nation is at peace though technically still at war, and should not resort to any of the war emergencies to correct present evils. Rather there should be enacted laws which will meet conditions as they now exist so that the government would have full power to deal with the situation growing out of the strike.

Many persons who opposed the enactment of the anti-strike clause will doubtless now see the error of their position and likely favor at this time a provision which will give the government some recourse when a few thousand men attempt to injure the well being of the people of the United States.

An exchange suggests a referendum on the cost of living. But we object. Prices might be advanced to include the cost of referendum.

Wise men tell us that every normal person born into this world is endowed with certain commendable attributes. Say what's an attribute?

Some people just naturally revel in the spotlight. And that possibly is the reason other people can so readily detect their spots.

Job was a patient man—but then Job didn't try to get rich quick.

When a fellow yawns in public he is generally bored—and is a bore.

In these days of prices and higher prices we have a certain amount of sympathy for those hardy gentlemen who for years have been boasting of the size of their appetites.

The Right Kind of Iron For The Blood

The most powerful and beneficial tonic in all medicine for the blood and nerves is iron. The greatest authorities agree on this. But it is a mistake to take any form of iron and expect to get satisfactory results. Most of the common forms of iron are what is known in science as "inert" when taken into the human system. By this it is meant that they exert no action whatever. Perhaps this is why you have been disappointed when you have taken certain pills or tablets or tonics said to contain iron.

The new way to restore iron to the blood—the surest and most dependable of all methods—is through the use of Acid Iron Mineral. This is a natural form of soluble iron—it is not prepared artificially by chemists like most medicinal iron, but is found in Nature itself, combined with other highly beneficial remedial agents. The story of the discovery of this new form of iron reads almost like a fairy tale and medical science has proved in thousands of cases its remarkable blood-making powers. Acid Iron Mineral may be procured in liquid form at any drug store. It contains no alcohol or injurious drugs and will not blacken the teeth. It has been especially noted that pale, puny children, weak, run-down persons and those enfeebled by age show improvement and exhibit increased strength almost immediately after starting treatment.

Eggs Preserved Now Will Reduce High Living Cost Next Winter

April and May Are Months When They Should be Put Down in Water Glass or Lime Water.

April and May are the months during which eggs should be purchased by the thrifty housewife in town or city and put down in water glass or lime water, according to men in the poultry department of Purdue University. These eggs may be kept during the summer and fall and through the period of extremely high prices which always come during the early part of the winter. Summer eggs may be preserved, but unless these are infertile, they will not keep as well as those produced during the next six or seven weeks.

Eggs to be preserved should be strictly fresh, clean, unwashed, firm shelled and free from cracks. Metal containers should not be used to put the eggs in, either earthenware or wooden vessels answering the purpose. A two gallon jar will hold 65 to 80 eggs; five gallon jar, 160 to 200 eggs; ten gallon jar, 300 to 400 eggs. The water glass method, which is widely used in the state, follows:

Water glass should be bought in the undiluted form at a drug store and mixed, one part to nine of boiling soft water and allowed to cool. If lime water is used, two or three pounds of lime should be slaked in a small amount of water and then added to three gallons of water. The mixture should be stirred frequently for a day and then after the surplus lime has settled, the saturated liquid may be poured off ready for use, leaving the surplus.

The eggs should be put in the liquid preservative, with about two inches of it over the top of the eggs. If evaporation takes place, water should be added. After the jar is filled, the top should be tightly covered to minimize evaporation. A cool cellar where the temperature varies but little is the best place for storage.

RULES FOR RAISING RADISHES

(National Garden Bureau)

Radishes are the easiest grown of all vegetables. In fact, it is really hard work to prevent a radish from growing into an edible vegetable, once the seed gets into the ground. It is the first seed to be planted in the spring and the first to come up, and the first to mature to edible proportions. A radish in the early varieties will be ready for use in four weeks from planting time with ordinary care. It is an all the year round relish, being grown in greenhouses when the garden season out of doors is over.

There is more radish seed planted than of any other vegetable. Although there are no statistics available, it is safe to say that a total of around 2 million pounds will be sold in a year. Individual seed houses selling thousands of pounds each. It is a subject for the smallest garden, a tiny patch of ground giving a good radish crop if there isn't room for anything else. It is a welcome addition to the finest of banquets and the humblest of lunches.

The most popular are the early turnip varieties, so called because of their shape. There are two types of this kind, one oblong and the other round and flattened. Still a third type is long and slender. Scarlet globe, crimson globe, scarlet turnip, white tip, French breakfast and others are the popular varieties. Speed has been the main development in the little early radishes. They have been developed until some varieties under favorable conditions furnish radishes in twenty days, twenty-five days are common now, but four weeks will be a certain delivery.

The little early turnip radishes need little attention. They are in the ground before the weeds get a good start and ready to eat before they can be overwhelmed, but cultivation and good soil helps them mightily. However, it is difficult to go wrong on the early radishes. Plant these early turnip-shaped radishes for the early crop and then the long shapes for later or midseason crops. It is necessary to make a succession of plantings, say once a week, in the early spring to insure a succession. In the hot days of summer the early radishes are not a general success, as they are apt to come hollow and pithy in many soils, but it is always safe to take a chance. The long varieties are better suited for the advanced season.

The bright scarlet color of the radish is one of its most familiar characteristics, but in the last few seasons a pure white radish has achieved great popularity and justly. This is the Icicle radish. It is an early maturer, as the long rooted varieties grow, is of high quality, being crisp and tender until it attains large size, where varieties of the long root type would be hollow and pithy. It makes a short leaf growth and may be planted closely. It is a favorite wherever it is tried. If you haven't met the Icicle radish, try a packet this year. The Early Long scarlet varieties, usually so catalogued, are fine companion crops. A dish of mixed scarlet and snow white Icicle radishes makes an attractive dish upon the table.

The winter radish is making its way slowly. These are fine as follow crops for the earlier vegetables, as they should not be planted until June. They make heavy roots which may be stored in the cellar over winter for slicing in salads or eating raw. A Japanese radish called Sakurajima and a Chinese variety are popular winter types. There are also Spanish varieties of winter radish. In fact, the list of winter radishes has been growing of late. They are worth planting, as the snappy radish slices time when fresh vegetables are scarce.

There was a shortage of radish seed last year, but American gardeners have come to the rescue and there is a sufficient crop this year, the French varieties being grown in America for seed.

Rural school teachers who have lunch carried from home, with some hot soup or cocoa prepared at school, testify that pupils are healthier and make better progress in their school work. Many valuable hints on preparing the school lunch are contained in bulletin No. 72, which may be obtained for the asking from the extension department of Purdue University.

The canning season will be here shortly. Many suggestions on the cold pack method of canning are contained in extension bulletin No. 82 which may be obtained free.

From a half hour to an hour and a half will be saved daily by a dish drainer, a wire rack which holds the dishes after they are washed. Boiling water dashed over the dishes just after they have been cleaned takes away the necessity of drying them with a towel.

Some flowers in the garden will add materially to its beauty. A row of poppies or others which bloom along about the time the vines start to die, brightens up the brown spots considerably.

In spring, the housewife's fancy turns to thoughts of greens. The dandelion is one of the earliest and one of the best.

Welcomes The Opportunity To Tell All Facts

Mrs. Byers, Deeply Grateful For Aid Wants Others To Know Trutona's Merit

Terre Haute, Ind., April 19.—"I am glad to have the opportunity to tell of the wonderful benefits Trutona has given me," Mrs. Rebecca Byers, who lives in Terre Haute, at 857 North Third street, said recently. Mrs. Byers' gladness is explained as follows:

"For the past three years my system has been in a run-down condition. My kidneys had been giving me a lot of trouble and my stomach was in such shape that I had to be careful about my eating. I suffered constantly from pains in my back and I know that my liver wasn't in good condition."

"My appetite had almost failed me completely when I began using Trutona. But thanks to this treatment of the perfect tonic I can eat anything I want to and thoroughly enjoy it. For the first time in three years my back doesn't bother me, and I sleep as sound as any human being can."

"Trutona did all of this for me after other medicines had failed to relieve my troubles, and I'm sure if one bottle will help me so much, a few more will be put me in splendid health. Furthermore, I'm confident that Trutona will do the same for others if they'll take it according to directions."

Trutona's healthful action reaches every portion of the body, and performs its work faithfully and efficiently. Trutona rebuilds diseased nerves and tissues, creates a healthful appetite and aids in the assimilation and digestion of the food.

Trutona is now being introduced and explained in Rushville at Hargrove & Mullin's Drug Store.—Adv.

RULES WOMAN MAY SIT IN CONVENTION

Judge W. A. Bond of Richmond Says He is Unable to Find Qualifications For Delegate

LOCAL WOMEN WATCH CASE

Esther Griffin White Filed Declaration of Candidacy to Get Ruling on Question

In the fact of a ruling by the state board of election commissioners that women could not be candidates for state delegate, Judge Will A. Bond of Richmond ruled in the Wayne circuit court at Richmond yesterday that Esther Griffin White's name could be placed on the ballot. Local women who have taken an interest in matters affecting their enfranchisement have watched the Richmond case with interest. The court said he found in the law no qualifications whatever for a state convention delegate.

Miss White brought action to compel the county board of election commissioners to place her name on the primary ballot as a candidate from the fourth ward for delegate to the Republican state convention. If she is elected, Miss White will be the first Indiana woman to hold a seat in a state convention. The case attracted state-wide attention, as Miss White filed her declaration to become a candidate in order that a ruling might be obtained on the point.

The court recited from the law pointing out that nowhere could be found any qualification that a delegate to the state convention must "ever be a voter, or of age."

"Since this question of conventions is not defined in the constitution, the legislature has the right to prescribe qualifications. It has not done so," said the judge.

"In fact, it is very plain in the statute that a person not living in the ward which the delegate is to represent, and not a legal voter, may become a delegate."

"Also, if so named, a Democrat could become a Republican delegate. All that is necessary is that the delegate shall have filed the petition bearing names of 10 voters of a party, residents of the county, one of whom swears he has voted for a majority of the candidates of said party in the preceding elections and intends to do so at the next election, and believes that the other signers do likewise."

"The only stipulation is that, if a person, thus nominated as a delegate wishes to withdraw, it is the duty of the board of election commissioners to notify the individual who verified for the delegate, who must name some legal voter to take the place left vacant. Even here it does not say 'some other legal voter,' but merely 'some legal voter.'"

"This isn't a question of voting at all," said the judge. "It is a question of just where the law permits or forbids political parties in their selection of delegates."

One of the members of the Wayne county election board said following the ruling of Judge Bond:

"The action of the election board was taken against the placing of Miss White's name on the ballot because of the opinion of the attorney-general of the state of Indiana, which was sent to us, and the announced ruling of the state election board, both of which were to the effect that women could not be candidates for delegates at this primary."

"The ruling of Judge Bond, which orders the election board to place Miss White's name on the ballots in the five precincts of the fourth ward will of course be complied with."

Rushville is Surrounded by Water Following Heavy Rain

for any one grade being 18 pupils, and school officials decided to dismiss the school until tomorrow.

Other Rushville schools were reduced in attendance today, especially in the primary grades.

The Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction company was operating cars only between this city and Connersville on their regular schedule.

The line was shut off from Indianapolis by a wash out, one mile west of the Blue River bridge near Morristown. It was reported today that the bridge over Blue River had been washed away, but this was untrue as the wash out was one mile west of here on a hill side. Thirty feet of track was washed.

Besides the wash out here, the traction line was also tied up in Rushville on West Seventh street when two squares of track were under two and three feet of water, caused by the overflowing of Hodges Branch.

Traction officials could not say just when traffic between here and Indianapolis would be restored, but they expected to resume some kind of a schedule late tonight or in the morning.

The river just east of Rushville was almost to the base of the tracks on the I. & C. bridge, and there was danger of the water flowing over the two bridges if the rain continued a few more hours.

The C. I. & W. railroad issued orders this morning for all trains to reduce their speed to three miles an hour at the Morristown bridge and to use caution in crossing it, on account of the rapidly rising water.

Fine Steels form the Sinews of a MAXWELL

Everything that is built to endure must have fine sinews.

A great ship, a giant locomotive, a huge bridge, a gigantic building.

Search for the sinews in a Maxwell and you discover new steels, fine steels, special steels, steels manufactured to Maxwell's own formulae.

Steels, for instance, that make possible that rare combination of extreme lightness and brute strength.

For a Maxwell is made to be light in weight. Its mission is economic transportation.

Any superfluous pound to carry around means so much more cost of operation.

But the great problem was to get steels of rare quality and great strength.

They are found in a Maxwell in axles, shaftings, gears, frame, crankshaft, connecting rods, etc., etc.

They equal, pound for pound, the steels to be found in any car made.

Costly as they are, they repay their price many times over in the lifetime of a Maxwell.

They save. They pay dividends of satisfaction.

They make friends. They are responsible for that rapid rise of Maxwell the world over.

Nearly 400,000 now in use; 100,000 more in process of construction; and fully 40 per cent of those who have decided upon a Maxwell as their first-choice car will not be able to get one this year—so overwhelming is the demand for this remarkable car.

INDIANA BIRDS DON'T FACE HOUSE SHORTAGE

Mankind is Only One Handicapped by Overcrowded Living Conditions in the State

GAME DEPARTMENT IS BUSY.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 20—Lack of sufficient housing accommodations in many Indiana cities now a dilemma to the race of man, is not a perplexing problem this spring to the bird life of Indiana, according to a letter received by George M. Mansfield, Superintendent of the Division of Fish and Game of the Department of Conservation from Frank G. Hasselman, Superintendent of the State Game Experiment Station and game farm at Bluff Mills, Montgomery county.

Some time ago the Conservation Commission with a view of encouraging an increase of insectivorous bird life in the state because of the extraordinary value of birds as destroyers of insect life detrimental to fruit and cereal crops and plant life, designated all state preserves as bird and game sanctuaries. Many bird houses were constructed and erected in suitable environment. The feathered friends are now "moving in" in large numbers. Mr. Hasselman writes, and already the bluebirds and martins are in possession of a number of the "cottages" and duplexes on the Game Experiment Station.

16 Million 438 Thousand Miles a Day

THIS is the potential mileage supplied daily to the people of the Middle West by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

In arriving at these figures we have taken ten miles per gallon as the performance of the average car, and multiplied it by 600,000,000, the number of gallons of gasoline marketed by this Company last year, and divided the result by 365.

The task confronting the Company is a dual one.

Not only must it maintain this flow of gasoline at all times, but it must so plan its activities as to keep pace with constantly increasing demand for fuel, whether this demand be normal or abnormal.

That, in a word, is the job of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) and the Company is as big as its job.

Every resource, every ounce of energy, and all its equipment are at work to keep pace with the insistent demands for gasoline and other products.

The management recognizes its responsibility to the motorists of the 11 states the Company serves, and every effort is being made to meet this responsibility.

YOUNGSTERS WILL ATTEND ROUND-UP

Second Annual Boys' and Girls' Club Will be Held Again at Purdue on May 3 to 7

EVERY COUNTY REPRESENTED

More Than 1500 Club Winners Will be Guests and Take Part in a Week's Educational Trip

Lafayette, Ind., April 20.—Practically every county in the state will be represented at the second annual boys' and girls' club round-up which will be held at Purdue University May 3 to 7. At least 1500 youngsters, largely club winners, are expected to be here for the week of instruction and pleasure.

The program which was completed today provides for daily setting up exercises under the direction of the military department; livestock, corn and egg judging contests for the boys; and sewing judging contests for the girls and demonstrations of all kinds. The operation of tractors will be shown by university men, and inspection trips about the university in which all the different features of interest will be visited, have been scheduled. As a result of such a program, practically all of the instructional work will be given through demonstrations and contests.

Periods of play are also on the program, these to come under direction of the athletic coaches. A debate, "Resolved, that the tractor is a good investment on the average 120 acre farm in central Indiana" by the Marion-Elwood team against the Frankfort-Forest team will be another feature.

Additional features will be "open house" in the shops and laboratories one evening during the week; egg barbecue on Thursday night, at the conclusion of the egg show; demonstration on fitting and showing livestock, etc.

The boys and girls will be accompanied here by county and home demonstration agents, club leaders, teachers and parents. Especially large delegations are expected to come from Sullivan, Fountain, LaPorte, St. Joseph, Bartholomew and Clinton counties. All of these counties and many more will send corn, stock and egg judging teams to compete in the state contests for which trophies will be given.

WIFE TICKLED NECK OF DIPLOMAT, CHARGE

Khodjan, Former Official of Russian Gov't Asks Divorce From His Playful Wife

JAZZED UP OFFICIAL PARTY.

(By United Press.)

San Francisco, April 20.—Klondike antics of his wife drove him almost to distraction, Alexander Khodjan, former official of the Russian government, says in a suit for divorce pending here.

They were married in London and he took his bride, Blanche Khodjan, to Petrograd where, he declares, she "jazzed up" an official party. Great was his embarrassment Khodjan relates, when his wife tickled the neck of a great dignitary who sat next to her at a banquet of high officials in Petrograd. There ensued, according to his complaint, "great whispering and merriment but poorly concealed among the thirty officials, to the intense humiliation of the plaintiff."

For that he forgave her, Khodjan asserts, but when she called on him while he was in a hospital here and displayed fancy stockings she had purchased, to him and all others in range, it was much too much. She was wearing the hosiery at the time he says.

COULD NOT STAND STRAIGHT

It does not take long, when the kidneys are out of order and not doing their work properly, for poisonous acids to accumulate in the system and cause aches and pains. D. C. Diamond, 2865 W. 30 St., Cleveland, O., writes: "I caught cold and settled in my kidneys. My back and sides were so lame and sore I could not stand straight. I use Foley's Kidney Pills with good results, and am glad to testify to their healing power." F. B. Johnson.—(Adv.)

ENGLAND SCHOOLS ARE OVERCROWDED

Thirst For Higher Education Has Increased so Colleges Are Unable To Fill Demand

OXFORD SHORT OF TUTORS.

(By United Press.)

London, (By Mail)—English parents have as much difficulty in finding a school for their offspring as the visitor to London has in finding hotel accommodation.

The thirst for higher education has increased so tremendously colleges are unable to cope with the demand. Cambridge university colleges are refusing entrances for next October. At Oxford there are not enough tutors, laboratories or lodgings for one-third of the number who wish to go up.

Women's colleges are even more overcrowded. No girl below scholarship standard can hope to be taken at Somerville or Lady Margaret College, Oxford. Unlike some men examiners, the women show no sort of preference for financial or social influence. The most learned only are admitted, and many are left clamoring outside the gates of learning.

One reason for the zeal for education is said to be the new spirit of democracy and another undoubted reason is that home life has become expensive and difficult. School is almost an economy, and domestic servants usually refuse to work in a house where children are kept.

RED MEN'S MEETING

The regular weekly meeting of the Red Men lodge will be held Tuesday night at 7:30, and as important business will be transacted, a large attendance is urged.

WORKS HARD TO AVERT FLU EPIDEMIC

Government and City Health Officials Warn People to Keep Clean.

Stay Away from People with Coughs and Colds.

"Avoid crowds if you want to avoid influenza," says the Association for Improving the Conditions of New York.

Keep your hands clean, drink plenty of fresh water; sleep with windows open; eat three uniform meals a day including a good breakfast.

People who have catarrh or frequent colds invite influenza, declares a prominent Kentucky druggist.

The membrane of the throat and nose is raw, sore and tender, and makes a lovely abiding place for germs to thrive and multiply.

He advises an inexpensive home-made remedy that will bring relief in less than a day and will stop all discharge and soothe and heal the inflamed membrane in a few days.

Thousands are making this beneficial remedy at home and anyone who has catarrh or a cold can do the same.

Pour three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcline into a pint bottle, then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled.

Gargle the throat as directed and sniff or spray the liquid into the nostrils twice daily. It's a simple way to get rid of cold and catarrh and keeps the nasal passage and throat clean and healthy.

Nearly all druggists dispense Mentholized Arcline in vials containing exactly three-quarters of an ounce, which is all you need to make a pint of this healthful medicine.

Less Than a Nickel a Week

This is all that Swift & Company's profit cost the average American family in 1919.

Here are the figures and authorities for them.

The average consumption of meat per person for a year is about 180 pounds (U. S. Government).

The average American family is 4 1/2 persons (U. S. Census).

Swift & Company's profit from all sources in 1919 averaged less than 1/4 cent per pound on all products including meat.

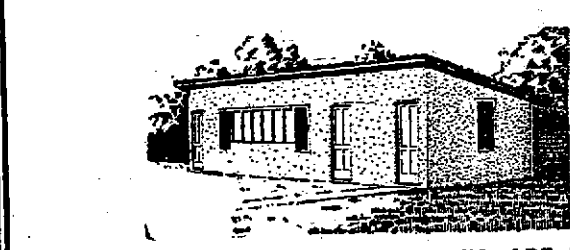

This averages for the family less than the price of—

- 1 cigar per week for father, or
- 1 street car fare per week for mother, or
- 1 package of gum per week for the children.

The complex service which we furnish the public is efficient and economical. The cost to the public in the shape of profit is too small to be noticeable in the family meat bill.

Swift & Company, U. S. A.

WIFE'S FORTUNE GOING TO SUFFER

Resumption of French Pomp Will Take Large Sum From Madame Deschanel

COST OF JOB HAS INCREASED.

President's Charity Allowances Also Make up One of His Heaviest Items

By HENRY WOOD (U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Paris, April 1. (By Mail)—There is every reason to believe that the private fortune of Madame Deschanel, which is reported to be very large, is going to suffer some terrific assaults during the seven years' term of her husband as president of France.

In fact, it is even to be presumed that unless Monsieur and Madame Deschanel hadn't figured that the honor was well worth paying highly for, M. Deschanel would have let Clemenceau have it.

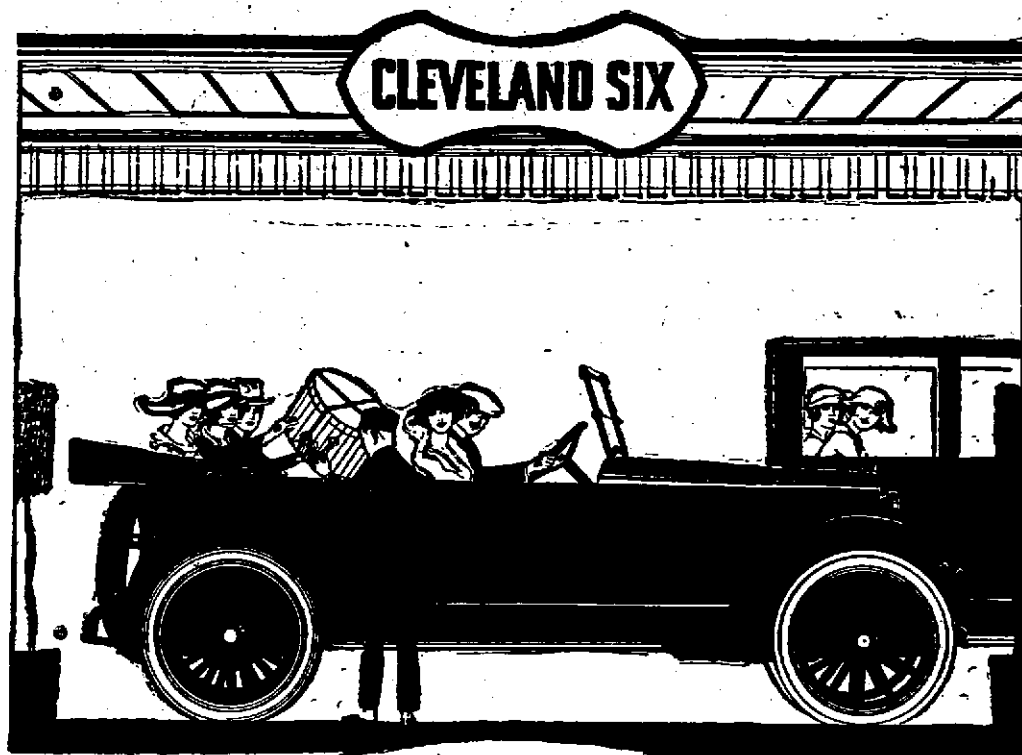

While France never intended, any more than did the United States, that the president should have to pay largely out of his own pocket the cost of his job, unfortunately the increased cost of living and the decreased value of French currency, has made the French presidential job one that is anything but promising from a financial point of view.

The salary and allowances now fall far shorter than do those in America for the upholding of the dignity and position of president.

First of all France pays her chief magistrate as salary 300,000 francs a year. Then he has an additional allowance of 300,000 francs a year for his household expenses and another 300,000 francs for entertainments.

Besides these allowances, the only other things furnished him are his residence and furniture in the Elysee palace which are kept up by the Ministry of Fine Arts—even down to furniture repairs.

Before the present upheaval of financial condition the above allowances made it at least possible to get away with the job with honor and dignity—if necessarily without profit. That French presidents have not been able to save much out of these allowances is demonstrated by the fact that former President Loubet can be daily seen taking a street car instead of riding in his own automobile while former President

Take a Real Ride in the Cleveland, and You'll Know What a Car It Is

The Cleveland Six, the sensation of the year among light sixes, is selling itself to thousands who use discrimination in picking out the car they want.

To attempt to describe the qualities of the Cleveland Six is no easy task. You must ride in it to know it. Take a real ride and you begin to understand that here is a better light six, very much better. It has an enclosed over-head valve motor, of exclusive Cleveland design and manufacture and tested in road work for three years before being offered the public, that gives performance unsurpassed.

A real ride will show you, better than can be told you, that the Cleveland has power and pick-up and flexibility and ease of driving that do not come with many other cars. Low-hung spring suspension and splendidly upholstered cushions wipe out the road-bumps. Beautiful body lines place the Cleveland above the usual plane in appearance. Upholstery is of genuine hand-buffed leather.

Fallieres who although blessed with thrifty habits and a large private fortune is known to have come out considerably poorer. His charity donations during his term as president ran from 6,000 to 7,000 francs a month.

Finally, Ex-President Poincare has returned to his former professions of senator and attorney in order to replete the inroads made in his private fortune during his term as president.

The total allowances to the French president are 1,200,000 francs a year or 100,000 francs a month. Out of this he must pay every cent of his domestic expenses including the large retinue of servants, secretaries and numerous other employes. He must keep up the state automobiles and the state stables filled with horses for drawing the state carriages when state visitors are his guests.

He must also pay all the expenses of state dinners which are numerous and large. These dinners are usually served by some one of the leading restaurants of the city. Before the war, they cost about 40 francs a plate. Now 40 francs won't buy an ordinary luncheon in one of the better-class cafes and restaurants of Paris.

The cost of uniforms and liveries for the servants is also a big item. Before the war the uniform for one of the outriders on the presidential coach cost 315 francs for the coat, the waistcoat cost 220 francs and the yellow leather breeches 126 francs. The cost of these now has unquestionably tripled.

The president's charity allowances and contributions also make up one of his heaviest items. Deschanel inaugurated his term of office by giving 20,000 francs to the poor of Paris. Next day he visited the military hospitals and left 500 francs for the wounded. The demands made on the French president for charity are enormous and owing to the traditions established when France was a monarchy and the head of the state was most generous, he is obliged to respond liberally.

If, as has been announced, Monsieur and Madame Deschanel plan to re-establish the famous dinners, receptions and social events for which the Elysee palace was formerly noted, it is expected that the state allowances will hardly be more than a meagre half of their expenses.
